PRESS RELEASE

‘Kentucky Health’ discusses sepsis and the health risks posed by infections

FOR RELEASE: March 16, 2021

Dr. Wayne Tuckson speaks with Dr. Benjamin Klausing, an infectious diseases specialist with the Baptist Health Medical Group, about sepsis, a potentially deadly condition that occurs when our bodies are not able to mount an effective immune response to a virus, bacteria or fungus.

The episode Kentucky Health: Sepsis: The Serious Side of Infections airs Sunday, March. 21, at 12:30 pm/11:30 am on KET and Monday, March 22, at 2/1 pm on KET2.

Kentucky Health is a weekly KET program that seeks to improve the people’s health through education and increased awareness. Kentucky Health is hosted by Dr. Wayne Tuckson, a colorectal surgeon in Louisville, and produced by Laura Krueger.

KET is Kentucky’s largest classroom, where learning comes to life for more than one million people each week via television, online and mobile. Learn more about Kentucky’s preeminent public media organization at KET.org, on Twitter @KET and at facebook.com/KET.
