PRESS RELEASE

‘Kentucky Health’ discusses prevention and treatment of HPV-related oral cancer

FOR RELEASE: Nov. 16, 2021

Kentucky has the highest rate of cancers caused by the Human papillomavirus (HPV) in the nation. On this episode of Kentucky Heath, Dr. Wayne Tuckson discusses the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of HPV-related oral and throat cancer with Dr. Pam Stein VanArsdall, professor and division chief of Public Health Dentistry at the University of Kentucky.

Kentucky Health: Oral Cancer and HPV: The Surprising Connection episode airs Sunday, Nov. 21, at 12:30 pm/11:30 am on KET and Monday, Nov. 22, at 2/1 pm on KET2.

Kentucky Health is a weekly KET program that seeks to improve the people’s health through education and increased awareness. Kentucky Health is hosted by Dr. Wayne Tuckson, a colorectal surgeon in Louisville, and produced by Laura Krueger.

KET is Kentucky’s largest classroom, where learning comes to life for more than one million people each week via television, online and mobile. Learn more about Kentucky’s preeminent public media organization at KET.org, on Twitter @KET and at facebook.com/KET.
