

‘Kentucky Tonight’ and ‘Kentucky Edition’ feature stories this week from National Conference of State Legislatures summit in Louisville

FOR RELEASE: Aug. 5, 2024

This week, KET public affairs programs Kentucky Tonight and Kentucky Edition will feature stories from the National Conference of State Legislatures annual Legislative Summit, which is taking place in Louisville from Aug. 5-7.

On Monday, Aug. 5, at 8/7 pm, Kentucky Tonight will feature a special taped discussion with a panel of Kentucky lawmakers and others attending the NCSL legislative summit in Louisville.

And throughout the week, Kentucky Edition, airing weekdays at 6:30/5:30 pm and 11:30/10:30 pm, will feature stories about the NCSL, including interviews with state Sen. Robert Stivers, Kentucky Senate President, and state Rep. David Osborne, Kentucky Speaker of the House; conversations with lobbyists Bob Babbage and Amy Wickliffe; as well as feature stories on the conference’s significance and economic impact for Louisville and the surrounding region.

The National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) is a national organization that provides research to the states on public policy topics, lobbies Washington on behalf of the states and convenes meetings throughout the year to connect legislators and legislative staff across the nation. This year’s big summit is being held in the Derby city where thousands are expected to learn about artificial intelligence, cybersecurity, economic development, child care, education and more.

KET is Kentucky’s largest classroom, where learning comes to life for more than two million people each week via television, online and mobile. Learn more about Kentucky’s preeminent public media organization at KET.org, on Twitter @KET and at facebook.com/KET.
